

Section A Longer writing task

Harry's Million

Spend about 45 minutes on this section.

Harry's long-lost Great Aunt Constance has died in Venezuela. One morning this telegram arrives for him:

Dear Harry,

Your Great Aunt Constance left instructions in her will that you should inherit the sum of one million pounds upon her death.

We are sorry to inform you that your Great Aunt has passed away. As a result, one million pounds will be transferred to your bank account at noon today.

We have to warn you that under the terms of your Great Aunt's will, any money remaining from the one million pounds at noon tomorrow will be removed from your account and donated to the Montevideo Llama Refuge.

Your humble servant, Rodrigo
Rodriguez, Solicitor

Write a story, starting when Harry receives the letter and ending at noon the following day.

(30 marks)

Use this page to plan your work.

This page will not be marked.

- How did Harry feel when he received the letter?

- What did Harry do between receiving the letter and noon the same day?

- How did Harry spend his money?

- Did Harry spend all of the money? How did he feel about it?

Section B – Shorter writing task

Home Makeover

Spend about 30 minutes on this section.

You see this advertisement in a magazine:

Have You Had It With Your Home?

Does someone in the family keep starting DIY projects that are never finished?
Do the wallpaper and curtains give you a headache?
Would your furniture look better in a skip?

The Home Makeover team is here to help!

We're back for a second series and we want to get our hands on your home!

Write to us explaining:

- what's wrong with your home
- why you need our help more than other people.

You could see your home being transformed on TV!

Write to the producers of the television programme persuading them to give your home a makeover.
